

Villa Niccolai

INFORMATION ABOUT OUR PRIVACY POLICY

This is to communicate our privacy policy and applies to information collected through this site, its storage, use and sharing of data collected. The voluntary transmission of your personal data will result in the implicit acceptance of our policy, which, complies with the directives expressed by the Law of Privacy (Legislative Decree No. 196/2003 Code on personal data protection).

The company is the sole owner of information collected and owns and uses only the information that you provide voluntarily via email or direct contact.

The company will not sell or provide any of this information to other parties. You may, therefore, share the necessary information to fully accomplish your request.

The company will use your information to respond with regard to the reasons why it has been contacted. The company may contact you to inform you about new services or other information relating to your relationship with our company, unless explicitly denied.

The company may store your data in both paper and electronic format, ensuring its protection with the appropriate security measures and confidentiality.

Access to personal data

You may request at any time:

- consultation of your personal information in our possession
- the cancellation of your personal data
- a change or correction of your data

Contacts

For any questions concerning our policies regarding privacy, please do not hesitate to contact us to info@villaniccolai.com